

Control-Flow Graph for Determining Academic Social Probation Status

The following is a control-flow graph representation of the algorithm used for determining if a member shall be placed on social probation given their academic history.

The final outcome of the algorithm is represented by the circular nodes. This is where the loop breaks.

Similar logic is used for evaluating if a member shall lose his punting privileges.

*Reevaluating academic social probation status does not require any specific cumulative GPA.

